

Go hiking and connect with nature

The surroundings of Planes de Son are privileged: high landscape value in an unbeatable location, between two protected natural areas such as Aigüestortes and the Estany de Sant Maurici National Park and close to the Alt Pirineu Natural Park. Also, the environment provides a large number of waymarked paths and routes on foot, several guidance circuits, and even Geocaching adventures.

The discovery of the mountain itself, the pastures, the pine forests or scrublands - among other types of landscape- help us understand the world of the conservation of natural environments and appreciate the great diversity that surrounds us; always counting on the guidance of environmental educational experts.
